

Jose Maria Sison (2nd from right) at the 64th anniversary celebration of the Union de Impresores de Filipinas (UIF) on February 6, 1966 at which as keynote speaker he delivered his definitive article on the Philippine labor movement. He was then the general secretary of the Socialist Party of the Philippines. Others in the photo (from left to right) are Felixberto Olalia, president of the National Association of Federated Labor Unions (NAFLU), Mrs. Olalia, Amado V. Hernandez, former president of the Congress of Labor Organizations (CLO), Julieta de Lima., executive editor of Progressive Publications and (standing behind in white barong shirt) Juan Cruz, UIF president. The UIF, founded by Crisanto Evangelista, played a crucial role in the Philippine labor movement from 1902 to the suppression of the CLO in 1952.
